Rep. Feild Speaks for Bond Issue

Editor The Star: Since the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation announced on February 9 the completion of negotiations for Delight Egg Farms, Inc., to build an egg processing plant near Hope with the cost of land and buildings to be financed through a County Bond Issue, many persons have asked me under what legislation the bond election is to be held, and how much the tax will amount to.

During the 1957 Regular Session of the Legislature, the Constitutional Amendment Committee of the House of Representatives, of which I was and am Chairman, considered 23 proposed Constitutional Amendments which were introduced in the House and 19 that were introduced in the Senate. Our Constitution authorizes only 3 may be submitted each two year period to the People for approval. Out of the total of 42 proposals, the 3 chosen were House Joint Resolutions 1, 9, and 23. We are here only concerned with HJR 23, for in the General Election on November 4, 1958, the people approved it by a vote of 142,289 for and 114,184 against.

HJR 23 thus became Amendment 49 to the Constitution of Arkansas, and it is under it that the election is to be held on March 20.

Amendment 49 was submitted to the People of Arkansas by the Legislature because it was recognized that additional methods of financing industries had to be found if many new industries were to be secured and many established industries expanded, thus creating additional payrolls, and the loss in population stopped. It provided that the bonds issued under this Amendment are general obligations of the issuing county. Therefore, the interest thereon would be deductible under the Federal Tax Law. It is this KEY FEATURE that makes the bonds more attractive to investors and makes a reduced interest rate possible.

Since the "adoption" by the people, of Amendment 49 there have been 38 industries financed thereunder in Arkansas. Out of the 38 bond elections there were 24 that voted 5 mills, 1 for 4, 2 for 3.25, 1 for 3, 1 for 3.5, 1 for 2, 1 for 1.25, 1 for 1.1, 1 for 1, 1 for .75, and 2 were refunding. These elections were held in the following counties: Arkansas, Baxter, Bradley, Carroll, Chicot, Columbia, Craighead, Crittenden, Cross, Dallas, Garland, Howard, Independence, Jackson, Lee, Lincoln, Marion, Miller, Mississippi, Monroe, Poinsett, Polk, Saline, Scott, St. Francis, Union, White, Woodruff, and Yell. The amount of the bond issue ranged from $40,000 to $2,000,000 and the employment provided ranges from 50 to 600 persons.

The Special Election will be held throughout Hempstead County on Tuesday, March 20, at the various polling places previously announced. Upon the approval of the voters, General Obligation Industrial Bonds totaling $245,000 will be issued and there will be levied a continuing annual tax of 2 mills on all property in Hempstead County, but ACTUALLY THE 2 MILL TAX WILL NOT BE COLLECTED so long as the $150,000 annual consideration of the lease rental agreement between Delight Egg Farms, Inc., and Hempstead County is paid to retire the bonds. If collected, it is estimated it would produce $21,000 to $22,000 per year in taxes. The lease rental agreement is to extend over a period of 15 years. At the end of the 15 years, the land purchased and buildings built thereon will no longer be the property of Hempstead County, but will become the property of Delight Egg Farms, Inc. Both Delight Egg Farms, Inc., and Hempstead County have agreed upon the following safeguards: (1) A private projected investment of approximately $750,000 by the stockholders of Delight Egg Farms, Inc.; (2) The total bonds to be issued are $245,000 instead of $225,000 so as to provide a $20,000 cushion fund; (3) The $20,000 can be invested for 4 per cent or better; (4) $4,000 a year for 10

Taps Echoes at Civil War Battle Site

PEA RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—Taps echoed across the valley here today commemorating the 100th anniversary of the Civil War Battle of Pea Ridge.

In solemn ceremonies, wreaths and plaques were placed and dedicated to indicate various battle sites of the most significant Civil War fight west of the Mississippi River.

Brig. Gen. James W. Greene Jr., a special assistant to the University of Arkansas president, recounted the dramatic fight which ended the South's hope of having Missouri in the Confederacy.

In the battle, Brig. Gen. Samuel R. Curtis commanded Union forces which routed Confederate troops led by Maj. Gen. Earl Van Dorn.

The victory established firm control over northwest Arkansas and eventually the whole of Missouri.

At Sunday's ceremonies, the Bentonville National Guard unit, commanded by Capt. Robert L. Bogel, played taps and memorial services were held in the Bentonville Baptist Church.

Maj. Gen. Sherman T. Clinger, adjutant general of Arkansas, represented the state in the wreath laying ceremony.

Congress authorized the Pea Ridge National Military Park in 1956 and in succeeding years, the state of Arkansas acquired land for the park and battle site.

Child Relives Tragedy in a Coma

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A 7-year-old girl, only survivor of a family of five whose home was destroyed in the crash of a military plane, is reliving the tragedy in a coma.

"I see it coming," Janice Levon mumbles over and over, her doctors reported. "I see it coming."

She apparently is referring to a crippled C-119 which wrecked her family's six-room farm house Saturday night in Kenilworth, 22 miles southeast of New Orleans.

Janice's father, Lubet Levon, 33, her mother and two brothers—Kirby, 10, and a year-old boy—were killed. All six plane crewmen parachuted to safety.

Dr. Lawrence Hill said he believed Janice, found outside the wrecked home, had a skull fracture.

The Air Force said the lumbering plane developed trouble after refueling minutes earlier at New Orleans' Caddo Field. The plane headed back but didn't make it. The Levon home is about nine miles from the air field.

Air Force officials declined comment on details of the crash. They said the crewmen, all uninjured, were held for medical observation at Caddo pending an official crash probe.

Woman Leaves 136 Descendants

BATESVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Dicy Edding, 83, died at her home in nearby Conover, Tuesday, leaving 136 direct living descendants.

Survivors include three sons, six daughters, 38 grandchildren, 65 great grandchildren and four great great grandchildren.

Mrs. Edding, widow of Audie Eddings, was a native of Stone County.

Hope Is Cited

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Community development accomplishments in the Planned Progress for Arkansas Program at Marianna, Decatur and Siliam Springs will be judged this month. A judging team will visit Marianna March 28 and the other two cities March 29. Four of the more than 120 cities in the program have already been judged worthy of special recognition. They are Cabot, Hope, Piggott and Paragould.

Four Killed in Two-Car Collision

Four Brookland residents were fatally injured Sunday when two cars collided in the middle of State Highway 1 about a mile south of Paragould.

Their deaths brought to 11 the number of persons dying violent deaths in Arkansas during the week ended last midnight.

State Police said cars driven by Jimmy Myracle, 47, and Floyd Norton, 24, collided, killing both Myracle, his wife, Jackie, 33, and James Troutman, 21, a passenger in the Myracle car.

Norton died four hours later in a Paragould hospital.

Russell Jordan, 21, of Conway died Saturday night when his car left the Pine Bluff highway near Little Rock and struck a utility pole.

A six-month old Negro infant, Charlie Porter Jr., drowned Saturday night after being thrown from his father's car into one foot of water in a ditch.

Officers said the child landed in the water-filled ditch after his father's car left the road about three miles west of Lake Village.

During the week, one other person was killed in a traffic accident, one died of burns, one was shot to death and one fatally stabbed.

Former Resident of Hope Dies

Mrs. Jim Taylor, the former Jessie Bundy of Hope, died March 7 at her home in Leesville, Texas. Survivors include two brothers, Sid Bundy of Benton and T. J. Bundy of Bastrop, La., two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Jarrell of Colorado Springs and Mrs. B. N. Ganes of Denver.

Fumes Overcome 2 at Colony

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Two children of the Arkansas Colony were hospitalized Saturday after being overcome by fumes from a leaky water heater.

Eight of the 2 children in the building were slightly affected by the fumes and the building was evacuated.

Mrs. Clytis Benson and R. V. Pike were found in a dazed condition by Clyde Mauldin, night supervisor. They were reported not seriously hurt by the fumes.

L. R. Board to Discuss Lawsuits

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Little Rock City Manager Board may meet in extraordinary session later this week to discuss a lawsuit filed by a group of Negroes seeking to desegregate city facilities.

The board is regularly scheduled to meet Wednesday to set an agenda for its March 19 session but G. W. Blankenship, director, said it's highly probable the board will hold a special meeting later this week.

The suit, filed last Thursday, seeks an end to segregation of the city auditorium, swimming pools and other recreational facilities.

Four Negro plaintiffs in the suit contend it was sparked by refusal of the city to consider creation of an interracial council.

The four men are Dr. William H. Townsend, Ozell Sutton, Dr. Carman P. Freeman and Dr. M. A. Jackson.

They said Saturday that Little Rock officials had been approached on the segregation problem last year and had declined to act on a proposal to establish a group to study the racial picture and recommend changes.

"In the minds of Negro leaders, this closed the door on negotiation," the four said. "There seemed to be no choice but to begin litigation."

The Negroes said the council proposal, made last July 21, stated that if legal action had to be started it would be a waste of public funds because the outcome was plain and would intensify racial tension.

They said when the city manager board had not acted on the proposal by the end of August the Negro group became convinced they had recourse only to a lawsuit.

Two Accidents Are Investigated

Yesterday on the Rocky Mound Road an auto driven by Perry Ware, local Negro, collided with another driven by Carlton Robert, with minor damage resulting.

City Officers Willis and McCulley charged Ware with leaving the scene of an accident and driving while intoxicated.

Saturday vehicles driven by Lige Bearden and Sue Neal collided at Avenue A and North Main with slight damage to both vehicles. City Officers charged Bearden with hazardous driving, by program last Thursday.

Court Awards Pulaski Three House Seats

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that Pulaski County should gain three seats in the Arkansas House and Jefferson County one, as a result of population gains, reflected by the 1960 census.

The ruling means Mississippi, White, Ouachita and Poinsett counties each will lose one of their present seats.

The Supreme Court decision overruled the state Board of Apportionment, which took one seat from Mississippi County, added one in Miller County and made no other change when it acted on reapportionment in February 1961.

Justices Paul Ward and Jim Johnson dissented from the 5-2 majority decision, which was written by Justice Neil Bohlinger.

"When the facts are reviewed, the new apportionment appears to be demonstrably arbitrary," Bohlinger wrote.

He noted that Pulaski County gained 46,295 residents and Jefferson gained 5,298 since 1950 without being given additional seats by the board, which gave one to Miller, despite a population loss of 928.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Secretary of State Nancy Holt and Attorney General Frank Holt make up the Board of Apportionment, which was created by Amendment 23 to the Arkansas constitution.

Bohlinger said the board admitted it had acted to "cause the fewest dislocations in the present representation of the more populous counties."

However, Bohlinger said, a study of Amendment 23 shows, "the board was created for the purpose of making changes, not for that of preserving the status quo."

"Hence the board misconceived its own reason for existence when it consciously looked for a way of making as few changes as possible."

Bohlinger said the Supreme Court could not have supported the board's position without overruling its own decision in a 1951 reapportionment suit.

At that time the Supreme Court held that the "equal proportions" methods of determining legislative apportionment was the fairest to all concerned.

It was under the equal proportion method that the court ordered the three new seats for Pulaski and one for Jefferson.

The board had used a method known as "smallest divisors."

Amendment 23 provides that the first 75 seats in the 100-member house shall be allotted one to each county, regardless of population. The remaining 25 seats are to be allotted to the larger counties on a population basis.

The amendment further provides for filing an original suit with the Supreme Court in case of dissatisfaction with the Board of Apportionment's action.

Two suits — one from Pulaski County and one from Jefferson County — were filed last year.

The cases were consolidated for hearing and both were disposed of with today's decision.

U.S. and Russian Ministers Sound Out Each Other

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko spent three hours today discussing Berlin and disarmament problems without reaching any settlement.

Foreign Secretary Lord Home of Britain bowed out of the talks temporarily to allow Rusk to emphasize Western views on the issues.

"The discussions took place over a long lunch at the Soviet villa. Both men were accompanied by experts."

Because of the length of the discussion, the Berlin review presumably went further than a mere repetition of previous U.S. complaints over Soviet harassment tactics in the air corridors to the isolated city.

A British spokesman said Home's temporary withdrawal from the foreign ministers' sessions was a logical development since the Americans and the British are speaking in Geneva with one voice.

Rusk, Gromyko and Lord Home — here for the opening of the 17-nation disarmament conference Wednesday — conferred Sunday night at dinner but reports were that little progress was made.

The Western Allies called on Russia to stop harassing Allied air traffic to Berlin lest increasing tensions there endanger the disarmament negotiations.

Gromyko denied knowledge of Soviet interference in the Berlin air corridors.

Rusk also told Gromyko the United States and Britain would like to get to work promptly on a nuclear test ban treaty.

Gromyko dimmed hopes for a quick agreement by raising, the old spy scare issue to counter President Kennedy's demand that ironclad inspection provisions be written into any treaty.

Rusk again warned Gromyko that unless an agreement can be reached by the middle of April, the United States will go ahead with a series of nuclear atmospheric tests in the central Pacific.

Home supported the U.S. stand.

After dinner the three men and their interpreters spent about 90 minutes in private conversation, most of the time presumably devoted to Berlin.

When the dinner conference ended shortly before midnight, Rusk told newsmen, "it was a good night's work. We talked about the Berlin incidents."

"We don't like them (the incidents), and we let them know it." Asked whether he obtained any satisfaction from Gromyko, Rusk replied, "We'll find out in a day or two."

Rusk did not say what specific Berlin incidents he protested but three matters are understood to have been covered by him and Home. Those were the wounding of a British military chauffeur by an East German border guard half a mile inside East Germany, the scattering of metallic snow by Soviet planes in the Berlin airways Friday to confuse Allied

100,000 Turn Out, Welcome Mrs. Kennedy

By FRANCES LEWINE

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indians welcomed Mrs. John F. Kennedy warmly today, and watched with interest as she placed a wreath of white roses at the shrine of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

More than 100,000 turned out to witness the arrival of America's First Lady from Rome for a nine-day visit to India and other thousands showed up for a glimpse of her as she made a round of official calls.

The pomp and ceremony of state occasions was lacking, for Mrs. Kennedy's visit is billed as semi-official, but the reception had the enthusiasm and color of greetings for such previous visitors as President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II.

Mrs. Kennedy donned a completely white outfit for her round of calls. She wore a white silk rajah coat designed by Oleg Cassini and a broad-brimmed straw hat turned up and worn off the face.

The First Lady, her sister Princess Lee Radziwill, U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith and India's ambassador to Washington, B. K. Nehru, stopped first

Discharge of Spa Officer Is Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court upheld today the discharge of Walker Talley, a Hot Springs police officer who was fired in October 1960 for conduct unbecoming an officer.

The decision affirmed Garland Circuit Court, which in turn had upheld Civil Service Commission approval of Police Chief Milford Sanders' action in discharging Talley.

In a Baxter County case, the Supreme Court ordered a new trial for three youths convicted of burglary in the Jan. 30, 1960 robbery of a Mountain Home implement company.

The high court said that voluntariness of the confessions of the three — David Kinsinger, 18; Dale Kinsinger, 19 and Ray Kinsinger, 18 — was not established during their trial.

Each man was sentenced to two years in prison for the $350 robbery.

In other cases decided today, the Supreme Court:

Affirmed Craighead Chancellor Gene Bradley's finding for the defendants in a boundary dispute case filed by Buell Nealy and others against Jack R. Jones and others.

"This case had been before the Supreme Court previously when the Nealy side appealed Bradley's order dismissing the suit. At that time the Supreme Court ordered Bradley to hear the case on its merits and it found no fault to day with the judges' decision after the trial."

Refused to issue a writ of prohibition to keep St. Francis Circuit Judge Elmo Taylor from permitting Minnie Warren to demand answers from Arkansas Motor Coaches, Inc. in a suit she filed against the bus line.

Reduced from $5,140 to $2,454 the amount of damages awarded S. J. Ezelle for damages he suffered when the Arkansas Highway Commission made him give up a lease on a service station which was torn down in construction of a highway.

Royce Weisenberger wishes to credit others for helping make such a success of the Juvenile Seminar held here last week. . . . he gave special credit to Judge Orin Byers, Sheriff Jimmie Griffin, County Clerk Dick Turnage and their staff, City and other County Officials and to Mrs. Alma Drew, director of the Hempstead County Welfare Office.

The Lions Club has another 100 tags available which say "There's Hope in Arkansas" . . . they can be purchased for $1 each at the Chamber of Commerce office.

There will be an Entered Apprentice Degree conferred by Whitfield Masonic Lodge No. 239 Tuesday night at 7:30.

This is Happy Birthday to the Girl Scouts of Hope and all over the United States . . . they were organized exactly 50 years ago today in Savannah, Ga. by Juliette Gordon Low . . . in Hope there are 118 girls engaged in this program and the United Fund here includes the Girl Scouts in its list of groups receiving funds . . . recently local girls took orders for cookies and these will be delivered

Plan Offers New Polio Vaccine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A program to immunize infants and school-age children against polio by giving them each of the three types of oral vaccines has been recommended by a government study group.

The group also proposed community-wide campaigns to immunize as many people as possible
against all three types of polio.

The proposal was worked out by a technical subcommittee at the government's communicable disease center in Atlanta, Ga.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry announced the recommendations Thursday and said they are being sent to other polio study groups for comment.

Editor: The Star: What is the City of Hope, Ark., doing in the way of turning back the people's tax money in public services?
Hope Streets would give an extra rough time and everyone
in order to get from one place to another. I would like to know if there is anyone in this city who knows the answer to my question? I think I speak for the local citizens in saying that the reasons for the rundown conditions existing in our town should be explained to us by our city officials.

Another question I would like to bring up relates to the disposed for a city zoning or housing authority. Why are vacant and abandoned houses and other structures within city limits allowed to remain in such condition year after year — inviting rodents and various other unsanitary conditions to flourish? I know of one such unoccupied structure, perhaps six blocks from the central business district, that has been standing for almost a decade —
no windows, frames rotting away
— the former occupants being gone. Not only are such conditions as this unhealthy, but also are eye-sores in our city. The owners of such property should be sought out and made responsible to immediately repair these types of buildings or if not, the city should take steps to have them razed.
This is not to mention the large number of sub-standard houses
and other buildings presently occupied which should be evacuated and/or razed.

To summarize this point, if the city fathers will not, or can not remedy this problem, I believe it is well to say that Hope needs a civic-minded group to instigate a "paint-up, fix-up" drive similar to that of the City of Little Rock.
Our capital city is much larger than Hope, but that type of campaign worked well there. Our business district as well as some residential neighborhoods would benefit by such action. Needless to say, our town would be much more attractive.

As to the answer of my opening question, I would like to elaborate further by presenting a few of my observations on the present city administration. It is my opinion that the city receives through taxation monies far in excess of expenditures in the form of services to the residents of Hope. Our city manager's salary, I'm told, exceeds $10,000. There are so many various departments and heads of the city government it is difficult to point a specific function of any one of those departments. Overlapping, duplication of services and waste are personally my observations.

committee and other groups, Terry said, will be used in developing the position the Public Health Service will take on use of the oral vaccines for the further control of polio.

"I expect to announce this position before Type III oral vaccine is licensed," Terry said. He was understood to have asked for comments within 10 days. Informed sources said action on licensing of the vaccine is due fairly soon.

Types I and II of the oral vaccine were licensed last year, but they were not recommended for general use because they provide only partial protection against polio. Salk vaccine, which is given by injection, offers protection
against all three types of polio.

ed, with inefficiency as a result.
Too much money comes in, but little is returned to the taxpayers.

The Hope Police Department, I believe, employs a force of approximately 16 men. By means of comparison, the city of Magnolia,
Ark., employs eight city officers.
Magnolia's population
(10,500) exceeds that of Hope's
(8,399). In addition, Magnolia city limits include a state college campus.

Since Hope is the district headquarters of the Arkansas State Police and also a county seat with sheriff's officers available if absolutely necessary, does it appear vitally necessary to employ so many officers of the law at the public's expense if the city is financially hamstringing as we often hear. Could it be that the Hope people are less law-abiding than the residents of other Arkansas cities — even larger cities than Hope? I doubt it. We really don't need this many "boys in blue." We do need street improvements, etc.

I challenge City Manager Garland Medders, one of the first city managers in the state of Arkansas to present to the people of the City of Hope, Ark., an itemized listing of accomplishments of his tenure in office as administrator in this city. I am sure there are a few, but nevertheless it would be interesting information
that all would appreciate knowing.
I realize that an opinion such as the one I have expressed is emotional and possibly will offend
some parties — especially in a small city such as Hope. I wish to clarify that my opinion is only one person's and that mine is genuine, sincere interest in my home town. Nothing else should be assumed. Each one of us is an integral part of our town and our town's accomplishments reflect us. If Hope's plight is further neglected, this represents a citizenry apathetic to its environment. Any government is only as good as the people under that government desire it to be. Let's make a few demands of our leaders! Need I say more? Sincerely

2 Hour Shows Can't Be Cut Successfully

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—After six or seven attempts, it must be clear to the "Theater '62" producers that they can't whistle a good two-hour movie down to a 50-minute television show without losing something important.

The lost ingredients in Sunday night's NBC adaptation of "The Paradine Case" were the characters. It was a courtroom drama, well acted and well staged, but the home audience never felt any familiarity with the characters.

Thus, when Mrs. Paradine turned out to be, after all, a murderess, there was no surprise
— not even sympathy. We didn't

Gary Powers Happy to Be Home

By BURL OSBORNE

BIG STONE GAP, Va. (AP) —
U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers,
"glad to be home" and in the market for a new suit, was set for a homey hello from his native
hill country today.

Powers, visiting his parents'
home at nearby Pound for the first time since his release from a Soviet prison, planned to shop
in Norton for a new suit.

The filer then was due to join a small motorcade to the National Guard armory here where local officials will welcome him
back to mountainous southwest Virginia.

Most of the 49,000 Wise County residents don't know Powers personally, for he lived in the Pound area only briefly. He spent more time in nearby Jenkins, Ky., and in Grundy, Va., where he went to high school.

But the citizenry does know
Powers' father, Oliver Powers, a Norton cobbler.

Powers slipped quietly in under cover of darkness early Sunday
after a drive from Washington.
He spent the rest of the night chatting with his family, got two hours sleep and was up again.

After a home-cooked turkey dinner Sunday night, Powers said there were no words to describe his feelings. He said it was the first time he and his five sisters have been together since 1953.

Powers spent part of Sunday afternoon horseback-riding in the hill country and "gipped," "I haven't had much opportunity to do that sort of thing recently."

Reaction in the community was subdued. Local officials were anxious to show Powers he was welcome at home, although admittedly, said one, "It is not a hero's welcome—he (Powers) did not want that."

His wife, Barbara Powers, did not plan to attend the hometown celebration.

At Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. Powers said she is waiting for her husband to come to Georgia.
She has been living with her mother in Milledgeville since Powers' plane went down.

Bizet's original musical play complete with the dramatic non-musical interludes—and two sets of Carmens and Don Jose's, one set for singing and another for acting.

There was also time, of course,
for Bernstein's little talks telling us what we were seeing and hearing.

Milton Berle's Friday night
special on NBC presented a strangely subdued Berle and plenty of old jokes. Jack Benny and violin performed predictably, but it was Lena Horne who brightened up the hour with her singing. It was all pretty un-spiced and old hat.

All in all, it was a rather routine weekend of viewing—for everybody except Wally Cox fans.
The former Mr. Peepers guest-starred in two series in rapid succession Sunday. He was a harried engineer in charge of an inaccurate computer in a comedy episode of ABC's "Follow the Sun," and a police-loving pickpocket in NBC's "Car 54, Where Are You?" He was just dandy both times.

Navigation on Arkansas Is Praised

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A project to bring navigation to the Arkansas River is "one of the great demonstrations of the pioneering spirit in our time," Maj. Gen.
Thomas A. Lane said today.

Lane, president of the Mississippi River Commission, said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Arkansas Basin Development Association that in the Arkansas project Army engineers "are tackling new problems which have not been encountered in previous engineering experience."

Lane was the featured speaker
at a luncheon opening the two-day association meeting.

"We are pioneering the development of a canalized waterway in a heavy silt bearing river," in the Arkansas project, he said. He said results of the Arkansas program will affect development of a plan for the Red River below
Denison Dam, also a silt laden stream.

Lane, a former Little Rock district engineer, recalled that at one time engineers "considered ourselves fortunate to get planning money" for such projects as the Bufala, Keystone and Dardanelle dams, which now all three of these are under construction and the navigation project is scheduled to be completed by 1970.

He predicted navigation would bring a bright future to the Arkansas Basin. River commerce is increasing, he said, and traffic on the Mississippi River rose 91 percent, to more than 128 million tons, from 1950 to 1960.

Brinkley Man Named by Democrats

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Democratic State Committee elected Forrest Long of Brinkley today to fill a vacancy in committee ranks.
The 57-member group, guiding hand of the state Democratic party, met to formally approve primary election dates.

The dates—set by law—are July 31 for the first primary, Aug. 14
for a runoff, and May 2 for close of the ticket.

Long, a Brinkley attorney, succeeds the late Ted McCastlain of Brinkley as committee representative from the 17th Judicial Circuit.

Miles Hale of Little Rock, national secretary of Young Democrats clubs, asked the committee to consider making two members of the Arkansas Young Democrats

and one member of the Arkansas Democratic Women ex-officio
members of the committee.

Committee chairman Tom Harper of Fort Smith appeared receptive to the idea, but said it would require a change in party rules.

Harper invited Hale to prepare
such a rule change for submission to the Democratic state convention next fall.

Twenty-two committee members attended today's sessions and 17 sent proxies. The entire proceedings took less than 15 minutes.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemor-roids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.
This substance is now available
in suppository or ointment form

Almost Crashed in

COMO, Italy (AP)—Some locomotives are invited into museums after retirement. This one tried to crash in.

An ancient steam engine that makes the run around scenic lake Como was hauling four coaches Wednesday at the lake station of San Giovanni. Its brakes failed as it approached the end of the line.

The four coaches stayed behind. But the engine continued across a sand embankment and down into the garden of a museum dedicated to Alessandro Volta, the Italian electrical wizard.

Trees stopped the intruder a few feet from the museum building. Workmen built a rail extension and the old engine chugged back to where it belonged.

years is to be placed in a sinking fund by Delight Egg Farms, Inc., as a security measure available only for the annual rental payments; (5) Delight Egg Farms, Inc., with a net worth of approximately $750,000 is not to pay out any dividends during the 15 year period unless the ratio of net assets is 3 times the amount of the outstanding indebtedness; (6) Though the bonds are not to exceed an interest rate of 6 per cent per annum a guarantee presale agreement will provide an interest rate of .033900, or you might say a fraction less than .0340, yet it is possible that at the public auction required by the Constitution it might be even less; and (7) All of the $225,000 made available by the sale of the bonds is to be immediately invested in the purchase of 120 acres of land on which will be built (a) the egg processing plant, (b) chicken houses for 100,000 hens, (c) a dwelling house and (d) a service road, and (e) two wells drilled to provide water.

Everyone should understand that the corporation named Delight Egg Farms, Inc., is simply a good trade name. The word "Delight" therein has no connection with Delight, Ark. or any other place in the world. After all, good eggs are a delight at breakfast, and at other times.

It has been announced that starting employment would be 43, rising to an eventual 148 persons, and that annual income to be generated by the expanding egg processing program is to be approximately $1,160,000.

Your Legislature considered, passed unanimously, and thus submitted to the people the proposal that was approved and became Amendment 49 so that industries might be assisted in solving many of their problems. We are fortunate that Mrs. Freeda Greenan, and her Associates have interested the Olsen Brothers of Los Angeles, Calif., in joining them in this proposed joint venture of building in Hempstead County such a large egg processing plant, and facilities for 100,000 laying hens, later to be increased. We should be especially indebted to Lloyd Spencer, President of The First National Bank, and Robert M. LaGrone Jr., President of the Citizens National Bank for the assistance rendered and contributions they have personally made to all parties concerned, as well as to the future security, welfare, and progress of Hempstead County. And, of course, the community leadership provided by the Chamber of Commerce, and the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation under the respective Presidents, Bill Caldwell, and Frank McLarty should be appreciated by all progressive minded citizens. stead County is now provided an opportunity for which so many have worked hard and long. We should have a big turnout on election day, and pass the bond proposal by a large majority. It will demonstrate that we are for progress in Hempstead County, that we are on the move forward.

On March 15, 1960, the People of Independence County voted, under Amendment 49, 4,405 for and 134 against a proposed $500,000 bond issue for the Seiberling Rubber Co. Our population and theirs is only 387 persons apart. Our vote can and should match and best theirs. There, as here it was not before committing capital and so much need of financing as being assured of public acceptance planning for future expansion. The outcome of our election will not go unnoticed by our Arkansas Industrial Development Commission. The Honorable Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Commerce in the Cabinet of the President of the United States, who will soon visit our County, and industries unknown to us who are now and will in the future be seeking a new location. Youth Admits Killing His Entire Family

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A slight 17-year-old high school boy, under psychiatric treatment for two years was quoted by police today as admitting he killed his entire family — parents and two brothers — because he felt they would be better off dead.

The slayings in the central New Hampshire community of New-Port, a town of 5,500 population about 50 miles northwest of Concord, left neighbors saddened and puzzled. Blond and bespectacled, the boy was considered bright. He was in the last year of high school.

The youth was scheduled for a juvenile court arraignment today behind closed doors.

The victims were Francis L. McGrath, 37; his wife, Wilena, 40, and their sons, Peter F., 13, and Charles A., 5.

New Hampshire law forbids publication of the name of a juvenile involved in crime. Juvenile hearings are secret and the disposition may not be published.

Police quoted the 17-year-old as saying in explanation of the slayings Saturday night: "I was thinking about all their suffering. They always have troubles."

Police said he told them he arrived home from his supermarket job Saturday night and found his parents angry at each other. The parents went out shortly afterward.

The boy told police he got a Japanese rifle and shot Peter in a hallway. Then he went into a bedroom and killed Charles in his bed.

When Mr. and Mrs. McGrath arrived home a half hour later, the mother was shot through the head as she stepped out of the car. The father tried to drive away but a rifle slug through a car window stepped him. The boy told police his father got out of the car and started to run. A shot felled him.

The boy then drove to the State Hospital at Concord and asked to see a doctor. Arnold Paradis, hospital police officer noticed the boy's blood-spattered clothing, put handcuffs on him and took him to police headquarters.

Was Tell-Tale Evidence Planted?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: When my wife left for work this morning she dropped a slip of paper in the hall on which was scribbled in her handwriting the name of a G. I. stationed at an Army base near our home. On the back of the paper had been scrawled a room number in a motel 30 miles distant. I found the memo while carpet-sweeping. It has got so I do the housework or it isn't done.

My wife has a job in a cafe which caters to G. I. boys. They shower her with compliments, attention and presents. In turn she will go out of her way to drive them to the base and see that they don't get lonely.

This morning she asked if she might have dinner with two boys who have completed training and are returning to Tennessee. She said they wanted to see our two-and-a-half-year-old daughter. I wasn't invited I suspect the worst after finding that scrap of paper.

It seems impossible to make our marriage work. We separated once before. I was a G. I. when we married three years ago. We're buying a house, furniture and now, since she's working too, another car. This has put us so far in debt that I've had to take on another full-time job.

Is jealousy warping my mind? Should I divorce? Did my wife deliberately plant that scrap of paper hoping to provoke me into divorcing? —Confused Husband

Dear Dorothy: Reading between the lines of your letter I'd say you two loved each other and for that reason as well as for your baby's sake, should remain together.

You're both at fault, you for not laying down the law, she for behaving like a willful teen-ager instead of a sensible young mother. Get back to first principles. It's your job to provide the food, shelter and clothing, hers to maintain the home and care for the baby. But responsibility for the child is as much yours as hers.

Under no circumstances should a two-and-a-half year old youngster be on the loose with a mother who's cavorting with a couple of G. I.'s. Tell your wife so and say that she's not going either unless you are included in the party. My guess is you've been too easy. Show some spunk!

Dear Helen: I've read your column for some time but never took the advice you gave to heart. Deep in my heart I knew I loved this boy, yet willfully did all I could to make him jealous. Was I the gay girl!

Suddenly he stopped coming to see me. By going wrong I was losing his love. Then and there I changed. Now we are happy again for he truly loved me. This is written in the hope of helping others—even wives—who are equally foolish. —Voice of Experience

Dear Helen: Do you think a man of 21 is too old for a girl of 16? The girl in question, my daughter, is a sophomore in high school, the young man in graduate school at college. Although they have never dated, they get along well together, are of good moral character and above reproach.

My wife is opposed to their dating, saying the young man is too old for our daughter and thinks she's too young to date anyway. This has become a major family dispute. Are you for or against me? —Bewildered Father

Dear Dorothy: Why not compromise by inviting the young man to take dinner or spend an evening with your daughter in her own home? Once the family gets to know him your wife may change her mind. Since girls are usually more mature than boys, the difference in ages should not be of too much consequence.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "What Age for Dating?"

radars and increasing use of the corridors by Soviet aircraft in an evident harassment campaign.

Some Western informants said the Soviets have been steadily building up the number of their flights in what seems to be a deliberate attempt to block out Western planes for considerable periods of time.

There was some speculation among Western diplomats that the Soviets were trying to provoke the United States, Britain and France into some drastic counter action. According to this theory, they would then walk out of the four-power air safety center in Berlin. The center is the last important four-power agency left in operation in Germany.

New evidence came from Moscow that the Kremlin may be aiming at a new Berlin crisis.

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, renewed Premier Khrushchev's long-standing threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany. Khrushchev has said such a treaty would give East Germany control of the supply lines to West Berlin, a claim the West has rejected.

Rusk plans to put up to the Russians again a proposal to place the supply lines from West Germany to West Berlin under an international authority. Moscow has rejected the idea several times.

Iowa Farmer to Speak in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Roswell (Bob) Garst, Coon Rapids, Iowa farmer who was host to Premier Nikita Khrushchev in 1959, will speak here May 18.

Garst will address the Farm and Ranch Club of Arkansas.

The outspoken Iowan recently suggested that Khrushchev should spend more money if he intends to improve agricultural production in the Soviet Union.

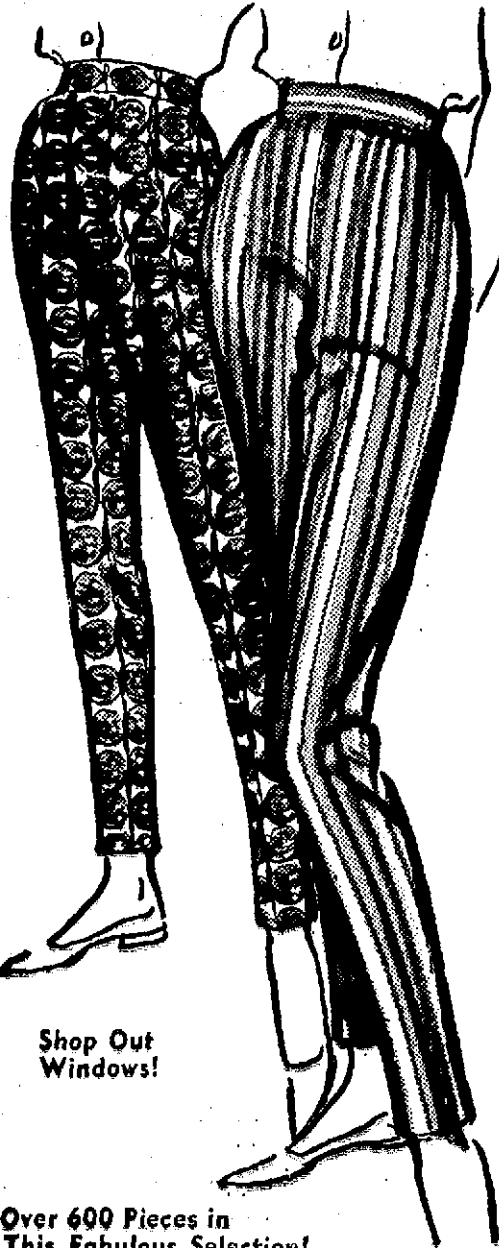

His 160-acre farm is a show-place for agricultural delegations, and was one of the places Khrushchev wanted to see during his tour of this country three years ago.

Post Season Cage Carnivals Start Tonight

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big-time college basketball's annual post-season carnivals start tonight. But a prime bit of unfinished business remains before a clear line can be taken on either of the major tournaments.

The single spot left in each of the two classics, the coast-to-coast CAA and the National Invitation at New York, will be filled after tonight's show down between Cincinnati and Bradley at Evansville, Ind. The two clubs tied for the Missouri Valley title. The winner gets the conference NCAA berth while the loser goes to the NIT.

Attention is focused on the game principally because Cincinnati captured the national championship in last year's NCAA by defeating mighty Ohio State and another clash between the Bearcats and Buckeyes has been long awaited.

The NCAA, with 16 conference representatives and 9 independent teams gunning for the crown, begins play tonight. First round action will be completed Tuesday night, and the four regional semifinals and finals are set for Friday and Saturday. National semifinals and finals will be staged at Louisville Friday and Saturday, March 23-24.

The 12-team NIT has six double-headers set for Madison Square Garden, including first-round competition Thursday night and Saturday afternoon. Quarterfinals will be played Saturday night and Tuesday night, March 20. The semifinals are Thursday night, March 22, and the title match Saturday afternoon, March 24.

Here is the NCAA schedule: East at Philadelphia tonight—Wake Forest (Atlantic Coast) vs. Yale (Ivy League); Massachusetts (Yankee) vs. Villanova (at large). The Wake Forest-Yale winner plays St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania (Middle Atlantic), and the West Virginia-Villanova winner meets the NYU-Massachusetts winner in the regional semifinals at the University of Maryland.

Midwest at the University of Kentucky tonight—Bowling Green (Mid-American) vs. Butler (at large); and Western Kentucky (Ohio Valley) vs. Detroit (at large). Regional semifinals at the University of Iowa pits the Bowling Green-Butler winner against Kentucky (Southeastern) and the Western Kentucky-Detroit winner against Ohio State (Big Ten).

Midwest at Southern Methodist tonight—Texas Tech (Southwest) vs. Air Force (at large); and Creighton (at large) vs. Memphis State (at large). The Texas Tech-Air Force winner meets Colorado (Big Eight) and the Creighton-Memphis State winner takes on Cincinnati or Bradley in the regional semifinals at Kansas State.

West at Oregon State Tuesday night—Oregon State (at large) vs. Seattle (at large) and Utah State (Skyline) vs. Arizona State University (Border). The Oregon State-Seattle winner faces Pepperdine (WCAC); and the Utah State-Arizona State winner plays UCLA (Big Five) at Brigham Young in the regional semifinals.

Loyola of Chicago, St. John's of New York, Houston and Cincinnati or Bradley are seeded teams in the 25th annual NIT, drawing byes into the quarterfinals.

Wichita plays Dayton and Temple tackles defending champion Providence in the opening double-header Thursday night. Holy Cross meets Colorado State University and Duquesne goes against Navy in Saturday afternoon's first-round games.

A million homes in the United States are centrally air-conditioned.

Jonesboro in Win Over NLR for State Title

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Over 4,000 fans watched Jonesboro, a third-ranked regional winner, take the dark horse roll Saturday night and down North Little Rock 48-41 to win the Class AA-AAA state basketball tournament here.

The Hurricane, fifth ranked in the state in the final Associated Press schoolboy poll, netted 24 of 27 free throws in defeating second-ranked North Little Rock, a team that had already downed top-ranked Fayetteville.

Top scorer Joe Murphy twice pulled Jonesboro out of tough situations in the game. The score was tied 19-10 in the first half when he had 6 straight to send Jonesboro into a lead it held until the third quarter. Murphy garnered 18 points in the game.

North Little Rock took a 29-27 lead with two minutes left in the third quarter, then Murphy hit four free throws to put the Hurricane out front again.

Jonesboro froze the game and hit eight straight free throws to clinch the victory.

Ron Le May, who hit three tallies near the end of the game to make it close, and Jim Holsted each netted 11 points for North Little Rock.

J. D. McConnell of Fayetteville was named most valuable player of the tournament.

Other members of the all-tournament team were Basil Hicks, LeMay and Holsted of North Little Rock, Joe Murphy, Ken Johnson and Anderson of Jonesboro, Phil young of Fort Smith, Gary Washington of Paragould, Justin Daniels of Fayetteville and Paul Hill of Harrison.

Record for 100 Yard Dash Tied

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's fastest human is mapping plans to become even a faster world's fastest human.

Traditionally, the holder of the 100-yard record is awarded the title of the world's fastest human. Robert Hayes of Florida A&M, has tied the record, but it hasn't been recognized yet.

"I'll be perfectly happy to hit 9.1 for the 100," Budd said today. "I'm not sure I can get down to 9 flat, though. If it comes, all right. But I'm setting my sights on 9.1."

Budd equalled the indoor 60-yard sprint record of 6 flat twice during the IC4A championships Saturday. He hit it in an afternoon heat and again in the final in the evening in Madison Square Garden. Herb Carper (once) and Rostee Cook (three times) are the only other 6 second men around.

"I think I can do 5.9 for the 60-yard dash," Budd volunteered. "The start is the key to it. You have to get off to a perfect start if you're going to set any kind of a record."

Budd's victory led Villanova to records. Other meet record-breakers included Gary Gruber of NYU in the shotput (64-3½), Bob Mack of Yale in the 2-mile (8:58.3) and Ted Bailey of Harvard in the 35-pound weight throw (63-5).
